SHE SACRIFICED HERSELF.

A Negro Woman in Saving Her Lover's Life Lost Her Own.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 13.—At a colored dance held at Cohokia, Ill., a small hamlet across the river, two of the men present became engaged in a quarrel, at 3 o'clock this morning, as to which should be favored by a woman who was undecided as to which to give a dance, and which both negroes claimed. Finally one of them drew a revolver and fired at his antagonist, but not before the woman had thrown herself across the breast of the object of the bullet. The man's life was saved, but the woman, whose name is Catherine Brooks, was mortally wounded, the ball entering her back and passing nearly through the body.

Murder and Suicide.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 13.—A double homicide occurred at Toas, ten miles east of this city, yesterday. Just after mass in the Catholic church at that place, Francis Bermelmans was accosted by Joseph Frank, and a quarrel ensued. Bermelmans tried to pacify Frank, and apparently succeeded in doing so. The two walked away arm and arm. After going about 60 feet together Frank drew a revolver and fired. The shot took effect in Bermelmans' left breast. The wounded man caught Frank by the shoulder and begged him not to shoot again. Frank fired a second time and Bermelmans fell dead, with a bullet in his breast and brain. Frank pointed the revolver towards his own head and snapped it twice, then started off and the excited congregation gathered around the remains of Bermelmans and carried them to the school-house near by. Frank started down the roadway, but had only gone a short distance when he again placed the revolver at his head and blew out his brains. No cause can be discovered for Frank's assault on Bermelmans and it is generally believed that his suicide prevented lynching.

A Rifle Influenced Him.

TACOMA, July 13.—M. A. Brown who has had much trouble with his partner, George T. Duncan, to-day filed at the superior court a suit against Duncan, A. J. Littlejohn and F. L. Richmond, for $10,000 damages. He alleges that the defendants compelled him at the point of a rifle to sign a document, the contents of which he is ignorant of. It is said that the defendants, in endeavoring to effect a settlement with Brown, exhibited a rifle presumably to persuade Brown.

The Fatal Cigarette.

OHIO, July 13.—Harry Curtiss, a glass worker, 18 years old, was found dead in bed yesterday. An autopsy showed that the heart was paralyzed, caused by the excessive use of cigarettes, he having been in the habit of smoking three or four boxes daily. He was from Corning, New York, and was related to some of the glass blowers killed in the Ravanna accident.

Blaine's Health Improved.

CORRUPT DEPARTMENTS.

DISHONESTY OF HIGH OFFICIALS TO BE EXPOSED.

Nothing is Talked of but the Rotten State of Officialism at the Capital—Petty Clerks Become Emboldened by the Acts of their Superiors, and Follow Them.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, July 13.—There were no committee meetings this forenoon, and the few members who remained in the city over Sunday were to be found looking for the most shady and cool corners of the buildings, so as to escape from the broiling sun which registered between 80 and 90 degrees.

The general conversation which pervaded not only parliamentary circles, but the whole city is the recent disclosures of malfeasance in the departments here. The existence of such has been hinted at in the press several times, and to many people locally, it was well known that there was truth in the charges. These exposures are only being opened and before two weeks are over some revelations more heinous and startling than those referred to will be made public. Coming as they do at a time when ministers of the crown are being charged with receiving money lavishly out of public contracts, the general belief is that the officials were determined to have a share of the swag as well as their superiors. They became emboldened at the amount of jobbery and corruption that was going on around them and finally came to the conclusion that they, too, might as well have part of the plunder. To-morrow the public accounts' committee will likely meet and more of these scandals will be made public. The privileges and elections' committee will also meet, and while that body is dealing with the offences committed by ministers of the crown, the public accounts' committee will lay bare to the public gaze a mass of rottenness that exists among their officers in the various departments. The Interior Department is bad enough, but once the Post Office Department and Secretary of State's Department, including printing bureau are brought to book, the public will have a feast of jobbery. The head officials of all the departments are said to be now engaged in looking over their files so that no papers, when called for by the committees may be sent which will tend to criminate them.

In the House this afternoon, Sir Adolphe Caron, in replying to Mr. Gordon, said that the pay for the active militia called out by Lieut.-Col. Holmes, ostensibly in aid of the civil power at Wellington, was first guaranteed by Dunsmuir & Sons before the troops left Victoria. He could not say who paid them.

Sir Hector said that the Government intended asking Parliament for a grant for the monument of Sir John Macdonald to be placed in the Government grounds.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Orangemen Parade—Died From Diphtheria—Scarletina Raging.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NANAIMO, July 11.—A social is to be given in the school house on Gillespie street by the choir of St. Alban's Church.

A CURIOSITY.

Mr. James Lewis, a farmer of Gabriola Island, brought a curiosity in the shape of a young chicken to the city yesterday. The little bird endures a continued violent trembling and when placed on a counter in one of the stores it passed clear across the counter without moving a step, the journey being made by the violent trembling of the chick. The writer took the bird in his hands and the effect was to produce a very mild shock, much resembling a mild form of electricity. The bird eats very ravenously, and its appetite never seems to be appeased.

CAPSIZED IN THE HARBOR.

Mr. R. A. Best, C.E., and an assistant, hired a sail boat from Campbell & Forman's boathouse yesterday, to go on a surveying trip to Departure Bay. There was a stiff breeze at the time, and all went well until nearing the gap, when a squall suddenly caught the boat and capsized it. The two men had all their instruments with them, which they managed to save, with the exception of the brush hook and tripod. The steam launch put out to their assistance and towed them back to the boathouse.

DROWNED.

Mr. Sheriff Drake and another gentleman were at Cowichan Lake on Wednesday and wanted to go up the lake. The barman, a young man named Carey, said he would wade out and get a boat from the other side, which was a little piece off. He started and nearly reached it, when he suddenly sank. An effort was made to rescue him, but they did not get his body till life had passed away. A party immediately went to Duncan's Station for a coroner. The coroner held an inquest on the body next day at the lake, and the verdict was accidental drowning. The young man has only recently been married and leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

The Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band will give an open air concert this evening in the band stand.

Mr. Campbell and Miss Turnbull were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at Comox on Thursday.

NANAIMO, July 13.—An inquest was held on the body of Mrs. William Taylor, who died from the effects of diphtheria on Saturday morning. According to the husband's statement the deceased was taken ill on Tuesday last, also a sister who was visiting her. Both the ladies were under the impression that their throat was merely sore and instead of calling in a medical practitioner contented themselves by sending to an herbalist for something for a sore throat. The latter gave the husband a gargle with instructions how to use it. A number of witnesses were called to give evidence, including several medical men, and after sitting twice on Saturday the court adjourned until today.

A GRAND PROCESSION.

The Loyal Lodge of Orangemen turned out yesterday in full regalia, and attended divine worship at the Presbyterian church. The lodge numbered over 300 members, which shows that its growth in the past twelve months has been very rapid. The new regalia with which the members were decorated looked handsome and becoming. Rev. Mr. McRae preached the morning and evening sermons, and on each occasion dealt with the history of the history of the Orangemen, especially the siege of Derry. The sermons were appropriate and much enjoyed by the large congregation.

DECORATING THE GRAVES.

The I.O.O.F. turned out yesterday for the purpose of decorating the graves of their departed brethren. The Nanaimo silver cornet band headed the procession, which was somewhat smaller than on previous occasions, a large number of the members not putting in an appearance. Each member was decorated with the regalia of the order, while in each hand was carried a beautiful bouquet of flowers, to be placed on the graves of their dead. Rev. W. W. Baer preached the memorial sermon, wherein he dwelt on the merits of the order, and strongly impressed his hearers.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

The funeral of Joseph Martin, who died on Saturday from the effects of a kick received from a horse a few week's ago, took place yesterday. At one time it was thought the deceased would recover, but again he showed signs of getting worse and gradually sank until he expired on Saturday. The body was conveyed in a canoe to Gabriola Island, where the interment took place yesterday in the presence of the whole of the inhabitants of the island. The deceased was known by everyone in the city and was looked upon as the coming athlete. He was matched for a hundred yards' race when he received his injuries.

SCARLETINA RAGING.

Scarletina is said to be raging in this city, and quite a number of adults are down with this dread disease and several deaths have taken place during the past week. Diphtheria also appears to be increasing in the city and the doctors are kept constantly busy attending to their numerous patients. Nurses are difficult to get and Mr. W. Taylor was compelled to be up night and day with his wife last week, being unable to procure a nurse.

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

The fruit festival in aid of St. Albans church will take place on the "green" on Thursday next.

Nanaimo is being visited by all kinds of persons seeking an easy living. Among the visitors are quacks, cane rack men, dolly pitching batteries, etc., but fortunately their stay is of short duration.

NO ERROR IN THE BOUNDARY.

Professor Mendenhall Corrects a Misstatement.

Colonel C. T. Mendenhall, superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, has recently returned from Alaska, where he has been engaged for two or three months inspecting the work of the several United States survey parties now at work in the far north. He went up on the coast survey steamer Patterson, and was with that vessel until last month.

His attention was directed to the recently published story of a serious error having been discovered in the old survey of the line forming the northern boundary between the State of Washington and British Columbia, and being asked for information on the subject, Colonel Mendenhall replied:

"I investigated that story while I was at Port Townsend and found there was nothing in it. The story was that through an error in the survey made about 50 years ago the British were in possession of a long strip of territory which properly belonged to the United States. There was, in fact, no such serious discrepancy. Of course, I don't say that the old survey was absolutely correct."

Railroad Collision.

PARIS, July 13.—This morning a club train from Calais, while entering the Northern Railway station in this city, dashed into the rear end car of the express train from Lille. No one on board the club train was injured, but the engine was badly smashed. The rear platform and latter portion of the car of the express train was wrecked and two passengers, with the guard and brakeman, seriously injured. Three other passengers suffered shocks.

Fighting for the County Seat.

FLORENCE, Ala., July 13.—The sheriff of Franklin county has petitioned the governor for troops to quell a riot which is imminent there. The trouble is over the location of the county seat. Russellville and Isabelle are the contesting towns. Men are forming into armed bodies and a conflict is inevitable. The election will occur to day.

Fatal Fire.

NAPA, Cal., July 13.—A fire last night destroyed a house two miles west of the town and Mrs. Fannie Hooter, a native of Switzerland, 44 years of age, was burned to death.

Another large consignment of those extra value men's $2.50 laced and Congress Shoes; also $2.00 Oxford, just received at the One Price Cash House of Carmichael & Paterson, 32 Johnson street.

HE WILL NOT ABDICATE.

RUMORS OF GLADSTONE'S RESIGNATION DENIED.

He will Take a More Prominent Part Than Ever in the Next General Election—The French Tariff Bill Defeated—Other European Items.

LONDON, July 13.—For some time past reports have been in persistent circulation alleging that Mr. Gladstone, because of his advanced age and failing health, had determined to abdicate the leadership of the Liberal party in favor of some younger man and much speculation has been indulged in as to which of the more prominent among the lieutenants of the ex-premier would succeed him. These rumors gave rise to such confident predictions on the part of political opponents of Mr. Gladstone that he would never lead the Liberal party in another general election campaign, that many of his followers were induced to accept the statements as based upon personal information to that effect. Recently a close personal friend of Mr. Gladstone wrote to him, calling attention to these reports, and asking him to say what part, if any, he would take in the coming campaign. On Saturday a reply was received, which is given to the public this morning. Mr. Gladstone wrote that he has not, nor has he had at any time, the remotest idea of giving up the leadership of his party, but, on the contrary, he intends to take a very vigorous personal part in the next struggle for party supremacy in the House of Commons. The letter was written by Mr. Gladstone himself, and shows neither in phraseology nor chirography the slightest sign of the waning power ascribed to the writer by those who would gladly see him abandon the field and cease the activity with which he has hitherto obstructed their political path.

FRENCH TARIFF BILL DEFEATED.

The French Chamber of Deputies, after a stormy debate on the proposed temporary duty on cotton, Saturday afternoon, defeated the whole tariff bill. The result was announced amid a scene of general disorder. It was afterwards announced that the tariff committee had agreed to modify the minimum tariff, taking as a basis the figures of the present conventional tariff and increasing it by 30 per cent.

CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE.

The international council of Congregationalists was called to order in Exeter Hall this morning. The proceedings were opened by prayer, followed by an address of welcome by Rev. R. W. Dale, of Birmingham, one of the most able clergymen of England. Among those who will read papers are Rev. S. Goodwin, of Chicago; Fullerton, of Waltham, Mass.; and Cordby, of Lawrence, Kansas. Ben Tillett, the well known labor agitator, will, by special invitation, address the conference on the labor problem and the relation of the church thereto.

A DISTINGUISHED COMPANY.

The Kaiser this morning went out unattended by anyone, save the guide, for a horseback ride through the most interesting parts of beautiful Hatfield Park. His host, Lord Salisbury, directed that every part of the park should be thrown open for inspection by his imperial guests. On the Emperor's return to Hatfield House, an elegant farewell luncheon was served. The company which enjoyed it was a distinguished one, comprising cabinet ministers, ambassadors of foreign nations, the gentlemen of the Imperial suite and Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and wife. It is reported that the Prince and Princess of Wales accepted the Kaiser's invitation to visit Germany in full state during the autumn as the guest of the nation.

Internal Feuds Among Socialists.

BERLIN, July 12.—According to a decision recently rendered by the supreme court, socialists are as much entitled to the privilege of displaying the red flag in a public procession as are the members of any other political body carrying their banners. The case arose from the seizure of a socialist flag at the time of a demonstration by socialists in Anhault last March. Internal feuds among the Socialists are increasing in intensity, and meetings held the past week mark a state of open and declared rupture between the young and old sections of the party.

Floods in Australia.

MELBOURNE, July 13.—The incessant and heavy rains which have prevailed for some time past have caused a serious overflow of the Yarara River. In this city the streets were inundated, a thing which has not occurred since 1863. Railway travel is blocked, and the streets in the suburbs are entirely under water. Thousands of persons have been rendered homeless, and a great deal of misery has been experienced.

GOSPEL OF THE WEATHER

The Wonderful Imagery of the Book of Job—How the Study of It Has Made Weak Men Into Infidels—Never Wade Into a Mystery Over Your Head.

BROOKLYN, July 5.—Dr. Talmage's sermon today is on a kind of gospel in which few people believe. The weather is a common object of complaint and fault finding, but Dr. Talmage finds a gospel in it, which today he proclaims from the text, "Hath the rain a father?" Job xxxviii, 28.

This Book of Job has been the subject of unbounded theological wrangle. Men have made it the ring in which to display their ecclesiastical pugilism. Some say that the Book of Job is a true history; others, that it is an allegory; others, that it is an epic poem; others, that it is a drama. Some say that Job lived eighteen hundred years before Christ, others say that he never lived at all. Some say that the author of this book was Job; others, David; others, Solomon. The discussion has landed some in blank infidelity. Now, I have no trouble with the Books of Job or Revelation—the two most mysterious books in the Bible—because of a rule I adopted some years ago.

I wade down into a Scripture passage as long as I can touch bottom, and when I cannot then I wade out. I used to wade in until it was over my head and then I got drowned. I study a passage of Scripture so long as it is a comfort and help to my soul, but when it becomes a perplexity and a spiritual upturning I quit. In other words, we ought to wade in up to our heart, but never wade in until it is over our head. No man should ever expect to swim across this great ocean of divine truth. I go down into that ocean as I go down into the Atlantic ocean at East Hampton, Long Island, just far enough to bathe; then I come out. I never had any idea that with my weak hand and foot I could strike my way clear over to Liverpool.

GOD'S MYSTERIOUS GOVERNMENT.

I suppose you understand your family genealogy. You know something about your parents, your grandparents, your great grandparents. Perhaps you know where they were born, or where they died. Have you ever studied the parentage of the shower, "Hath not the rain a father?" This question is not asked by a poetaster or a scientist, but by the head of the universe. To humble and to save Job God asks him fourteen questions: About the world's architecture, about the refraction of the sun's rays, about the tides, about the snow crystal, about the lightnings, and then he arraigns him with the interrogation of the text, "Hath the rain a father?"

With the scientific wonders of the rain I have nothing to do. A minister gets through with that kind of sermons within the first three years, and if he has piety enough he gets through with it in the first three months. A sermon has come to me to mean one word of four letters, "help!" You all know that the rain is not an orphan. You know it is not cast out of the gates of heaven a foundling. You would answer the question of my text in the affirmative.

Safely housed during the storm, you hear the rain beating against the window pane, and you find it searching all the crevices of the window sill. It first comes down in solitary drops, pattering the dust, and then it deluges the fields and angers the mountain torrents, and makes the traveler implore shelter. You know that the rain is not an accident of the world's economy. You know it was born of the cloud. You know it was rocked in the cradle of the wind. You know it was sung to sleep by the storm. You know that it a flying evangel from heaven to earth. You know it is the gospel of the weather. You know that God is its father.

If this be true, then how wicked is our murmuring about climatic changes. The first eleven Sabbaths after I entered the ministry it stormed. Through the week it was clear weather, but on the Sabbaths the old country meeting house looked like Noah's ark before it landed. A few drenched people sat before a drenched pastor; but most of the farmers stayed at home and thanked God that what was bad for the church was good for the crops. I committed a good deal of sin in those days in denouncing the weather. Ministers of the Gospel sometimes fret about stormy Sabbaths, or hot Sabbaths, or inclement Sabbaths. They forget the fact that the same God who ordained the Sabbath and sent forth his ministers to announce salvation also ordained the weather. "Hath the rain a father?"

INCESSANT COMPLAINTS OF THE WEATHER.

Merchants, also, with their stores filled with new goods, and their clerks hanging idly around the counters, commit the same transgression. There have been seasons when the whole spring and fall trade has been ruined by protracted wet weather. The merchants then examined the "weather probabilities" with more interest than they read their Bibles. They watched for a patch of blue sky. They went complaining to the store and came complaining home again. In all that season of wet feet and dripping garments and impassable streets they never once asked the question, "Hath the rain a father?"

So agriculturists commit this sin. There is nothing more annoying than to have planted corn rot in the ground because of too much moisture, or hay all ready for the mow dashed of a shower, or wheat almost ready for the sickle spoiled with the rust. How hard it is to bear the agricultural disappointments. God has infinite resources, but I do not think he has capacity to make weather to please all the farmers. Sometimes it is too hot, or it is too cold; it is too wet, or it is too dry; it is too early, or it is too late. They forget that the God who promised seed time and harvest, summer and winter, cold and heat, also ordained all the climatic changes. There is one question that ought to be written on every barn, on every fence, on every haystack, on every farmhouse, "Hath the rain a father?"

If we only knew what a vast enterprise it is to provide appropriate weather for this world we would not be so critical of the Lord. Isaac Watts at ten years of age complained that he did not like the hymns that were sung in the English chapel. "Well," said his father, "Isaac, instead of your complaining about the hymns, go and make hymns that are better." And he did go and make hymns that were better. Now, I say to you if you do not like the weather get up a weather company and have a president, and a secretary, and a treasurer, and a board of directors, and ten million dollars of stock, and then provide weather that will suit us all. There is a man who has a weak head, and he cannot stand the glare of the sun. You must have a cloud always hovering over him.

I like the sunshine; I cannot live without plenty of sunlight, so you must always have enough light for me. Two ships meet in mid Atlantic. The one is going to Southampton and the other is coming to New York. Provide weather that, while it is abaft for one ship, it is not a head wind for the other. There is a farm that is dried up for the lack of rain, and there is a pleasure party going out for a field excursion. Provide weather that will suit the dry farm and the pleasure excursion. No, sirs, I will not take one dollar of stock in your weather company. There is only one Being in the universe who knows enough to provide the right kind of weather for this world. "Hath the rain a father?"

GOD IS INFINITE IN INFINITESIMALS.

My text also suggests God's minute supervisal. You see the divine Sonship in every drop of rain. The jewels of the shower are not flung away by a spendthrift who knows not how many he throws or where they fall. They are all shining princes of heaven. They all have an eternal lineage. They are all the children of a king. "Hath the rain a father?" Well, then, I say if God takes notice of every minute raindrop he will take notice of the most insignificant affair of my life. It is the astronomical view of things that bothers me.

We look up into the night heavens, and we say, "Worlds! worlds!" and how insignificant we feel! We stand at the foot of Mount Washington or Mont Blanc, and we feel that we are only insects, and then we say to ourselves, "Though the world is so large, the sun is one million four hundred thousand times larger." "Oh!" we say, "it is no use, if God wheels that great machinery through immensity he will not take the trouble to look down at me." Infidel conclusion. Saturn, Mercury and Jupiter are no more rounded and weighed and swung by the hand of God than are the globules on a lilac bush the morning after a shower.

God is no more in magnitudes than he is in minutiæ. If he has scales to weigh the mountains, he has balances delicate enough to weigh the infinitesimal. You can no more see him through the telescope than you can see him through the microscope; no more when you look up than when you look down. Are not the hairs of your head all numbered? And if Himalaya has a God, "Hath not the rain a father?" I take this doctrine of a particular Providence, and I thrust it into the very midst of your everyday life. If God fathers a raindrop, is there anything so insignificant in your affairs that God will not father that?

When Druyse, the gunsmith, invented the needle gun, which decided the battle of Sadowa, was it a mere accident? When a farmer's boy showed Blucher a short cut by which he could bring his army up soon enough to decide Waterloo for England, was it a mere accident? When Lord Byron took a piece of money and tossed it up to decide whether or not he should be affianced to Miss Millbank, was it a mere accident which side of the money was up and which was down? When the Christian army was besieged at Beziers, and a drunken drummer came in at midnight and rang the alarm bell, not knowing what he was doing, but waking up the host in time to fight their enemies that moment arriving, was it an accident?

When in one of the Irish wars a starving mother, flying with her starving child, sank down and fainted on the rocks in the night and her hand fell on a warm bottle of milk, did that just happen so? God is either in the affairs of men or our religion is worth nothing at all, and you had better take it away from us, and instead of this Bible, which teaches the doctrine, give us a secular book, and let us, as the famous Mr. Fox, the member of parliament, in his last hour, cry out, "Read me the eighth book of Virgil."

Oh! my friends, let us rouse up to an appreciation of the fact that all the affairs of our life are under a king's command, and under a father's watch. Alexander's war horse, Bucephalus, would allow anybody to mount him when he was unharnessed, but as soon as they put on that war horse, Bucephalus, the saddle and the trappings of the conqueror he would allow no one but Alexander to touch him. And if a soulless horse could have so much pride in his owner, shall not we immortals exult in the fact that we are owned by a king? "Hath the rain a father?"

GOD'S WAYS ARE PAST FINDING OUT.

Again my subject teaches me that God's dealings with us are inexplicable. That was the original force of my text. The rain was a great mystery to the ancients. They could not understand how the water should get into the cloud, and getting there, how it should be suspended, or falling, why it should come down in drops. Modern science comes along and says there are two portions of air of different temperature, and they are charged with moisture, and the one portion of air decreases in temperature so the water may no longer be held in vapor, and it falls. And they tell us that some of the clouds that look to be only as large as a man's hand, and to be almost quiet in the heavens, are great mountains of mist four thousand feet from base to top, and that they rush miles a minute.

But after all the brilliant experiments of Dr. James Hutton, and Saussure, and other scientists, there is an infinite mystery about the rain. There is an ocean of the unfathomable in every raindrop, and God says today as he said in the time of Job, "If you cannot understand one drop of rain, do not be surprised if my dealings with you are inexplicable." Why does that aged man, decrepit, beggared, vicious, sick of the world and the world sick of him, live on, while here is a man in mid life, consecrated to God, hard working, useful in every respect, who dies? Why does that old gossip, gadding along the street about everybody's business but her own, have such good health, while the Christian mother, with a flock of little ones about her whom she is preparing for usefulness and for heaven—the mother who you think could not be spared an hour from that household—why does she lie down and die with a cancer?

Why does that man, selfish to the core, go on adding fortune to fortune, consuming everything on himself, continue to prosper, while that man, who has been giving ten per cent. of all his income to God and the church, goes into bankruptcy? Before we make stark fools of ourselves, let us stop pressing this everlasting "why." Let us worship where we cannot understand. Let a man take that one question, "Why?" and follow it far enough, and push it, and he will land in wretchedness and perdition. We want in our theology fewer interrogation marks and more exclamation points. Heaven is the place for explanation. Earth is the place for trust. If you cannot understand so minute a thing as a raindrop, how can you expect to understand God's dealings? "Hath the rain a father?"

Again, my text makes me think that the rain of tears is of divine origin. Great clouds of trouble sometimes hover over us. They are black, and they are gorged, and they are thunderous. They are more portentous than Salvator or Claude ever painted—clouds of poverty, or persecution, or bereavement. They hover over us, and the get darker and blacker, and after awhile a tear starts, and we think by an extra pressure of the eyelid to stop it. Others follow, and after awhile there is a shower of tearful emotion. Yes, there is a rain of tears. "Hath that rain a father?"

GOD SEES OUR TEARS.

"Oh," you say, "a tear is nothing but a drop of limpid fluid secreted by the lachrymal gland—it is only a sign of weak eyes." Great mistake. It is one of the Lord's richest benedictions to the world. There are people in Blackwell's Island insane asylum, and at Utica, and at all the asylums of this land, who were demented by the fact that they could not cry at the right time. Said a maniac in one of our public institutions, under a Gospel sermon that started the tears: "Do you see that tear? that is the first I have wept for twelve years. I think it will help my brain."

There are a great many in the grave who could not stand any longer under the glacier of trouble. If that glacier had only melted into weeping they could have endured it. There have been times in your life when you would have given the world, if you had possessed it, for one tear. You could shriek, you could blaspheme, but you could not cry. Have you never seen a man holding the hand of a dead wife, who had been all the world to him? The temples livid with excitement, the eyes dry and frantic, no moisture on the upper or lower lid. You saw there were bolts of anger in the cloud, but no rain. To your Christian comfort, he said, "Don't talk to me about God; there is no God, or if there is I hate him; don't talk to me about God; would he have left me and these motherless children?"

But a few hours or days after, coming across some lead pencil that she owned in life, or some letters which she wrote when he was away from home, with an outcry that appals, there bursts the fountain of tears, and as the sunlight of God's consolation strikes that fountain of tears, you find out that it is a tender hearted, merciful, pitiful and all compassionate God who was the father of that rain. "Oh," you say, "it is absurd to think that God is going to watch over tears." No, my friends. There are three or four kinds of them that God counts, bottles and eternizes. First, there are all parental tears, and there are more of these than of any other kind, because the most of the race die in infancy, and that keeps parents mourning all around the world. They never get over it. They may live to shout and sing afterward, but there is always a corridor in the soul that is silent, though it once resounded.

My parents never mentioned the death of a child who died fifty years before without a tremor in the voice and a sigh, oh, how deep fetched! It was better she should die. It was a mercy she should die. She would have been a lifelong invalid. But you cannot argue away a parent's grief. How often you hear the moan, "Oh, my child, my child!" Then there are the filial tears. Little children soon get over the loss of parents. They are easily diverted with a new toy. But where is the man that has come to thirty or forty or fifty years of age, who can think of the old people without having all the fountains of his soul stirred up? You may have had to take care of her a good many years, but you never can forget how she used to take care of you.

There have been many sea captains converted in our church, and the peculiarity of them was that they were nearly all prayed ashore by their mothers, though the mothers went into the dust soon after they [illegible] to sea. Have you never heard an old man, in delirium of some sickness call for his mother? The fact is we get so used to calling for her the first ten years of our life we never get over it, and when she goes away from us it makes deep sorrow. You sometimes, perhaps, in days of trouble and darkness, when the world would say, "You ought to be able to take care of yourself"—you wake up from your dreams finding yourself saying, "Oh, mother! mother!" Have these tears no divine origin? Why, take all the warm hearts that ever beat in all lands, and in all ages, and put them together and their united throb would be weak compared with the throb of God's eternal sympathy. Yes, God also is father of all that rain of repentance.

Did you ever see a rain of repentance? Do you know what it is that makes a man repent? I see people going around trying to repent. They cannot repent. Do you know no man can repent until God helps him to repent? How do I know? By this passage, "Him hath God exalted to be a prince and a Saviour to give repentance." Oh, it is a tremendous hour when one wakes up and says: "I am a bad man. I have not sinned against the laws of the land, but I have wasted my life; God asked me for my services and I haven't given those services. Oh, my sins God forgive me." When that tear starts it thrills all heaven. An angel cannot keep his eye off it, and the church of God assembles around, and there is a commingling of tears, and God is the Father of that rain, the Lord, long suffering, merciful and gracious.

THE CRY OF A MOTHER'S HEART.

In a religious assemblage a man arose and said: "I have been a very wicked man; I broke my mother's heart. I became an infidel, but I have seen my evil way, and I have surrendered my heart to God, but it is a grief that I never can get over that my parents should never have heard of my salvation; I don't know whether they are living or dead." While yet he was standing in the audience a voice from the gallery said, "Oh, my son, my son!" He looked up and he recognized her. It was his old mother. She had been praying for him a great many years, and when at the foot of the cross the prodigal son and the praying mother embraced each other, there was a rain, a tremendous rain, of tears, and God was the Father of those tears. Oh, that God would break us down with a sense of our sin, and then lift us with an appreciation of his mercy. Tears over our wasted life. Tears over a grieved spirit. Tears over an injured father. Oh, that God would move upon this audience with a great wave of religious emotion!

The king of Carthage was dethroned. His people rebelled against him. He was driven into banishment. His wife and children were outrageously abused. Years went by, and the king of Carthage made many friends. He gathered up a great army. He marched again toward Carthage. Reaching the gates of Carthage the best men of the place came out barefooted and bareheaded, and with ropes around their necks, crying for mercy. They said, "We abused you and we abused your family, but we cry for mercy." The king of Carthage looked down upon the people from his chariot and said: "I came to bless, I didn't come to destroy. You drove me out, but this day I pronounce pardon for all the people. Open the gates and let the army come in." The king marched in and took the throne, and the people all shouted, "Long live the king!"

My friends, you have driven the Lord Jesus Christ, the King of the church, away from your heart; you have been maltreating him all these years; but he comes back today. He stands in front of the gates of your soul. If you will only pray for his pardon he will meet you with his gracious spirit and he will say: "Thy sins and thine iniquities I will remember no more. Open wide the gate; I will take the throne. My peace I give unto you." And then, all through this audience, from the young and from the old, there will be a rain of tears, and God will be the father of that rain!

The Great Benefit

Which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS
OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW.
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.
I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bed ridden. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when the Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the DRAGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

AFFAIRS IN CHINA.

Affairs are in a bad way in China, it is reported. Owing to growth of population and scarcity of food in many of the Provinces, there is a constant tendency to discontent and insurrection. The same causes are now at work that led to the Taiping rebellion. Every year a number of Chinamen die as the consequence of crop failures, inundations, and insufficient means of transportation. The people rebel or rather take to the road because they are perishing of want. Politics has nothing to do with their uprisings. In China political indifferentism is carried to an extreme. But, as is observed by the San Francisco Call, "the objective of the insurgent bands which are now ravaging the valley of the Yang-tse is, however, of less consequence to foreigners than the practical measures they are likely to take." Their prejudice against foreigners is intense, and as in their ignorance they are quite willing to ascribe their misfortunes to the presence of foreigners, it is expected that they will not hesitate to cut the throats of missionaries, in the hope that the step would increase the supply of rice. The Peking Government can do nothing to prevent it. It is always ready to punish the murderers of missionaries when it catches them, but there it stops. The Government is unable to enforce its own authority even in its own city.

China and Japan are full of American missionaries. There are said to be over 800 in Japan, and in China in the single province of Chih-li there are 52.

"These servants of Christ," says the Call, "with their chapels, their snug parsonages and their trim gardens, not unnaturally attract the fury of mobs. When a half-starved, ignorant and brutal crowd goes out on the warpath the mission is their first objective point, and the missionary is lucky when he and his family escape with their lives. Then the ministers at Peking thunder at the Tsung-li Yamen; troops are sent to the scene of disturbance, and a lot of people are put to death; the affair winds up with the payment of a sum of money to the missionaries out of the lean treasury of the empire."

The moral of the situation seems to be that while religion in China is important, rice is paramount. Not much use to attempt to convert to Christianity a lot of hungry barbarians.

THE AMERICAN SAXON.

The Vancouver Telegram, when not expatiating on Toryism and suspended mud in Vancouver harbor, is in the habit of making incursions across the border. In one of these, recently, it made the discovery that the English language is not uniformly spoken throughout that country. To this charge the San Francisco Chronicle made reply, and the Telegram rejoining thereto expresses willingness to accept the "Chronicle's statement in denial, and is glad to think that the United States will remain English, even if the American people can no longer lay claim to the Anglo Saxon in descent." What does the writer mean? If he means that the American people can no longer lay claim to being descended of a people born south of the Tweed, nobody will dispute him. If, however, he would convey the idea that as yet the Americans are not chiefly of British, not Saxon descent, he is mistaken. The first settlers of New England, it is true, were English, and so were those of Virginia and Georgia. The Middle States, however, were settled by the Dutch and Swedes, traces of which remain. But subsequent immigration was variegated by Irish and Scotch. Scotch prisoners taken at the battle of Dunbar were shipped to Virginia to be sold as indentured servants, and we may suppose that they left a posterity. At all events, we find that of the various characters who cropped up during the Revolution and at later periods, many were Scotch, with here and there an Irishman. The upshot of the matter is, that what with immigration not from the south of the Tweed but from the British Isles, we have in Americans a mixture of the Saxon and the Celt to which must be added the Dutch of New York and the Swedes of New Jersey. But the idea that the Telegram would convey is, that the Saxon in America is becoming extinct, and that the American hybrid which is taking his place is an inferior creature. As to the inferiority of the creature it is not worth while to discuss, but it is a mistake to suppose that the Anglo-Saxon, that is the English and Scotch element in the States is not still in the ascendant. In the Southern States the descendants of the English and Scotch predominate five to one. In York State honors are easy between the Saxon and the Celt or rather between the Saxon and the Irish, as the Telegram, no doubt would rather we express it. The Irish control New York city for the reason that the Anglo Dutch and German population are too lazy to "repeat" their votes; while in New England, if politics means anything, the Saxon is in the majority. The strength of the foreign element in the States is local. If there is anything in the statement that the French and Irish element are democrats, the presidential elections prove conclusively that the American Anglo-Saxon is numerous. It is he who has kept the Republicans in power. But it is inevitable that there should be a composite race on this continent. Even if none but the pure bred Anglo-Saxon migrated here the variation from the parent stock after a generation or two would be marked and striking. Man is the creature of his environment. This is exemplified throughout the States so sharply that the Americans themselves perceive it. The Saxon of the South is different from the Saxon of the North. The coming breed of Pacific coasters will differ from both. The same thing is noticeable of the immigrants from continental Europe. The German living on this coast is different from his compatriot who lives on the Atlantic seaboard. What the political effect will be on a people scattered over so wide a range of country it is too early to determine; but there seems to be no reason why the status quo should not continue indefinitely. State sovereignty promises to make possible what is impossible under a strongly centralized government.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The acme of protectionism is reached by the Ohio wool-growers, whose spokesman is Mr. LAWRENCE, president of their association. Mr. LAWRENCE modestly demands that in the near fcture there shall be "such an increase of duties as will shut out all foreign wools." This is a good illustration of the toboggan-slide nature of the protectionists' route. At the top they talk moderately of "fostering infant industries," but they soon come to the point of demanding that the infant industries be freed from all competition, without regard to the consumer.

A curious complication in politics across the line has just been solved. At last year's election the Connecticut governorship was left in dispute, but the Republican candidate, MORGAN G. BULKELEY, succeeded in installing himself. Governor HILL, of New York, took up the quarrel of his Connecticut Democratic brethren and refused to recognize BULKELEY as governor when the latter's name was attached to a requisition for the transfer of a criminal from New York state. Now Mr. HILL has retreated from his position, and inter-state relations are once more established on the old basis.

Under the heading, "Sectionalism run mad," a drive at Victoria anent the collapse of the University Act, the Vancouver World evinces the very sectionalism that it assumes to reprobate. "The Mainland," it says, "has acted within its rights, and has done nothing of which it has any reason to be ashamed." Such a remark as this could emanate only from a sheet which has a very dim perception of what is right and a very misty sense of shame, and it would be better for both it and the Mainland had it chosen a different line of argument. The action of the Mainland senators is capable of but one construction, and that is that their sectionalism got the better of their common sense. But it is not worth while to discuss a matter, which the Mainland can neither condone nor excuse. The Mainland delegation acted foolishly, and the question of a university for this Province is dead, not to be resurrected while the present Government is in power.

It is quite true that at the time the Municipal Act was being considered by the House the clause in it giving owners of town property a vote for every lot they owned, escaped our notice. But, as soon as we were made aware that such a clause existed, we denounced it. Says the Sentinel:

"It is true the hon. gentleman (Semlin), a couple of sessions ago, did introduce an amendment to the bill, which was voted down, but it was by no means a Government measure."

We would ask the Sentinel if the Government can escape the moral responsibility of the passage of a bad bill? All we ask of the Sentinel is, that it lodge the responsibility of a bad measure with those who are responsible for its passage through the House. It is one thing to propose and another thing to endorse. The Government endorsed the objectionable clause in question. We hold, therefore, that the Government is as deep in the mud as the proposer is in the mire. Will the Sentinel have the candor to admit it? The Sentinel excuses its equivocal attitude re incorporation three years ago on the score that the majority was against it. Does the Sentinel propose to run with the crowd, right or wrong? Has it no convictions of its own irrespective of what may be the convictions of the majority? Is it afraid to dissent from the majority? We would point out to our contemporary that "duty" not infrequently requires that the majority should be opposed. How can the Sentinel hope to build up public opinion except that it has convictions of its own and gives them circulation? We are of opinion that the Sentinel is not of the stuff of which martyrs are made.

KAMLOOPS INCORPORATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—Over the above heading our worthy town exponent, the Sentinel, replies to your article "Kamloops Incorporation." Whether the TIMES is or is not interested in the incorporation of Kamloops is and should be of the utmost concern to the residents of Kamloops. We all know only too well the attitude the Sentinel took for the last three years when incorporation was first mooted. Now that the TIMES has kindly taken up the subject and given it publicity, the residents of Kamloops hail such an action with delight and earnestly hope that such a worthy and independent journal as the TIMES will make "Kamloops Incorporation" their concern. It is of vital importance to the taxpayers of Kamloops that we should have incorporation. To the few monopolists, dispensers of Government pap and the man who has "A draw in the House," incorporation has no charm for them. There are many things that Kamloops wants and like the child of Pears' Soap fame, we won't be happy till we get it. We want incorporation. We want an independent government. We want a fair and honest disposition of government patronage. We want more men like Mr. Semlin. We want to refute the insinuation that the C.P.R. employees vote just as the man who has "the draw" wishes them to vote. We want the proper authorities to examine into the manner in which our postoffice is conducted, and give us better postal facilities. Our postmaster, without a moment's warning, posted a notice in the postoffice saying, "Hereafter this office will be closed at 5" (or 6 p.m., I forget which). A great number of the residents are C.P.R. employees, living some distance from the post office, and working from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. Those men, to do any business at the postoffice, must lose a quarter or half day to do so. Evidently the convenience of the public is a secondary consideration in the management of our postoffice, and the C.P.R. employees are only railroaders, and not in the swim.

The residents of Kamloops are a patient and long-suffering class of people, but the postoffice has been the proverbial "last straw."

INCORPORATION.

Kamloops, July 11.

LOYAL ORANGE LODGE.

The Members Attend Church at Cedar Hill—Off for Nanaimo.

On account of some misunderstanding the members of Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 1426 were unable to attend St Savior's church yesterday morning as was at first intended. It was late in the evening when they were notified that a change would be necessary and of course they were in a dilemma. Arrangements were however made and the members attended St. Luke's church, Cedar Hill. Assembling in the hall at 8 o'clock in full regalia, they took a bus and drove out to the little church which was pretty well filled. Over 60 Orangemen attended. Rev. Brown preached an appropriate sermon which was listened to with interest by those present.

This morning at 6:30 o'clock the Orangemen again assembled at their hall in full force and marched to the E.&N. Railway station where they boarded a special train for Nanaimo. The train left the station at 7:15 well filled with members of the order, their friends and the public generally. The train arrived at Nanaimo about 10:30 and will leave there again at 10 o'clock this evening for home.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Harry Wallace's Body on the Walla Walla—Other Deaths.

The body of the late Harry Wallace, formerly steward of the steamship Walla Walla, was this morning taken aboard of the steamer that he formerly worked on for shipment to his late home in San Francisco. As the body crossed the gang-plank all the flags on the steamer were lowered to half mast, which way they will remain during the trip.

The first death at the newly-established home for the aged poor and destitute occurred yesterday, when August Hurberveau died of heart disease. The deceased was a native of France, and came to the province in 1861. He was engaged in mining for a number of years, but until too old, he worked for the corporation.

Rosa Copeland, wife of Wm. Copeland, a blacksmith, died at her husband's residence, 159 Montreal street, yesterday. She was aged 32 years.

The funeral of the late Mrs. F. A. Hookway took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence, and at 2:30 from St. John's church. Rev. P. Jones read the services for the dead both at the church and the grave. Prof. Simons presided at the organ, while the choir rendered special music. The pallbearers were H. Saunders, A. L. Belyea, R. Savage, A. Rhodes, W. Beckwith and W. J. Stevens.

WHARF AND WAVE.

Jottings of Interest to Marine Men Concisely Compiled.

American ship Empire, 1975 tons, Capt. Snow, is in the roads awaiting orders. She is in ballast from the Philippine Islands.

THE CITY AND DISTRICT

We Told You So.

Sugar, 16 pounds for $1; flour, per sack, $1.40; creamery butter per pound, 25, at Wm. Eckert's, 106 Yates street.

Due on Monday.

Seeking Their Brother.

Miss Rachel and Miss Martha McMurrin arrived last evening from Ireland. The object of their visit is to find their brother, who, they have reason to believe, is in the city. They are stopping at the Dominion Hotel.

A Day's Outing.

The Sunday School teachers and officers of the Pandora Avenue Methodist Sunday School will enjoy an outing next Saturday. They will meet at one of the boathouses, where boats will be taken and the day spent on the waters of the Arm.

Excursion to Cape Flattery.

The fine steamer Olympian will make an excursion to Cape Flattery on Saturday July 18th, leaving the wharf at the foot of Yates street at 1:30 p.m. and returning by moonlight. Fare for the round trip will be $1. A full band will furnish music. July 13-5t

The Social Postponed.

For reasons, unforeseen when the announcement was made, the social under the direction of the Ladies' Aid, St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria west, announced to take place to-morrow evening, is postponed until Tuesday, 21st inst.

For the Commissioners.

Captain Mike McCahill of Spratt's wharf, is fixing up the C.P.N. Co's flagship, of the row boat fleet, which is to go up on the Danube when she leaves for the north. The boat is to be used by the Behring Sea commissioners and of course is being fixed up accordingly.

For San Francisco.

The steamer Walla Walla sailed for San Francisco this morning with the following passengers from this port: John P. Gallagher, T. D. Whitlock, B. B. Sorois, Feo. Fisher and wife, Miss Courtier, Miss Jackman, Mrs. J. Wilcox, Mrs. J. Johnston and Mrs. Langridge and child.

The Steamer Victorian.

Assistant engineer Vantassle of the steamer Olympian goes to Portland next week to join the new U.P. steamer Victorian. The rest of the crew will also go down in a few days from Tacoma. A few finishing arrangements have to be completed before she leaves for this city.

It Will be a Success.

The "at home" to be given by the ladies of the Roman Catholic congregation to-morrow afternoon cannot but be a success. No effort is being spared, and no detail is lost sight of to keep up the well-known reputation of these ladies as delightful entertainers and hospitable hostesses.

Will be Exported.

The sealers are at present busy packing their skins for shipment as it is expected that very few skins will be sold here but that most of them will be exported. As no sales have taken place yet it is not known what the actual price is but they will undoubtedly sell well for the sealers.

In Hymen's Bonds.

Mr. Richard Goskeel and Miss Emma Mace were united in Marriage at the residence of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. D. MacRae, 57 King's road, on Saturday evening last. The newly married couple have been residents of Victoria for some years. They intend making this city their home.

Delivered Free.

The San Francisco Examiner, S. F. Call, S. F. Chronicle, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Seattle Telegraph, Portland Oregonian, or any other papers or periodicals, will be delivered free, by applying at the "Victoria News Agency," Kerr & Begg, Booksellers and Stationers, 45 Government street. j62w

Excursion to the Cape.

M. J. Bissell, the U.P. agent, is making arrangements to run an excursion to Cape Flattery next Saturday if sufficient inducement is offered. A large number have signified their wish to go on an excursion of the kind, so no doubt if satisfactory arrangements can be made the excursion will be a success.

The New Fog Horn.

The steamer Sir James Douglas, at present at Nanaimo, will arrive home this week. She will go to Vancouver before returning to bring down the machinery and boilers for the Carmonah Point (Bonilla Point) lighthouse now being erected. The fog horn which is to be erected will be a great aid to mariners.

Only Three Deserters.

Out of 230 bluejackets of H.M.S. Warspite, whose leave expired at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, only three were missing. They are supposed to have gone across the Sound, although to do so they would have to creep through the nets of the city, provincial and ship's police. Only three desertions after a long time without leave is a splendid showing.

Bound for the Orient.

The steamship Batavia of the Upton line is due from Nanaimo this evening bound for China and Japan. She is taking on 1000 tons of coal at Nanaimo which, with the flour and lumber that she has already loaded, will fill her up. She will take on several Chinese and two or three cabin passengers at this port. She will lay at the outer wharf for several hours.

Returned From Mexico.

Jim McCaulay, an old British Columbia miner, has just returned from a trip through new and old Mexico. This was his second trip through that country, the first being in the sixties, but he says the country has improved very little in the last 20 years. If it was favored with the same climate that British Columbia is it would be a beaten. Jim will leave in a few days to try his luck in the Big Bend country where he has done lots of work in former years.

Mill for Centreville.

Mr. James Tretheway, an experienced miller from Mission, B. C., contemplates the erection of a saw and grist mill, at Elk Creek in Chilliwhack, at an early date. The machinery for the mill is on the way, and all arrangements are made for the construction of the works. The location is one of the best sites to be found anywhere, having a never failing stream of water falling from a perpendicular height of over 200 feet, which is to be used as the motive power for the mill. The farmers are ready to turn out and convey the machinery from the steamer landing to the mill site, and otherwise assist in the project gratis.—Chilliwhack Progress Ledger.

They Have a Kick.

The select circle, known as drunks, who honor the police court levee with their presence, have a prodigious kick. They have been led to believe, from long established custom that Her Most Gracious Majesty would give them a month's board and lodging for having been temporarily in apanle of using their physical faculties. It seems, now, that the presiding justices of the peace have cut this privilege by just one-half, thus lessening the inducements to get drunk. Two drunks in the dock to-day heard the announcement, "five dollars or two weeks." A look of astonishment overspread their countenances, and manifesting a look of disgust, paid the five dollars. An assault case was adjudged in five dollars or one month's retirement, a fact which made the drunks sorry they had not committed assault.

Grand Lodge A.O.U.W.

The delegates to the Grand Lodge A.O.U.W. from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, nearly 400 in number, will arrive in the city to-morrow evening by the steamers City of Kingston and Yosemite. The members of the order in this city will meet at their hall to-morrow afternoon and march to the steamer to receive the visitors. In the evening at 8 o'clock they will be accorded a reception in the Victoria Theatre under the patronage of His Honor the Lieut.-Governor. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Grant and Mr. S. Duck. After this a musical programme will be presented by Mrs. A. G. McCandless, Miss MacGregor and Mr J. G. Brown. Everybody is invited to be present and no doubt a pleasant evening will be spent. On Wednesday morning the Grand Lodge will settle down to business and remain in session for at least four days.

A Prosperous Country.

Mr. W. J. Goepel and Mr. W. G. Allan, arrived down from Nelson last evening. Though always willing and pleased to visit his old home, Victoria, Mr. Goepel is charmed with Nelson, which he says is going forward by leaps and bounds. Mining is looking up wonderfully well this season. The Silver King has actually changed hands, as announced in these columns a few days since, for $2,000,000, and the sale will be consummated very shortly. It is expected that at least another $600,000 will be spent in development. Mr. Goepel is interested in a claim called the White Water, on which the owners have erected a gold mill. The first clean up was satisfactory beyond all expectations. Building round Nelson is brisk, and business property is sold at $60 to $70 a front foot. Mr. Allan has with him some splendid specimens of the gold and silver wealth of that country.

The Bishop Only Has Power.

Rev. Father Yorke preached a very impressive sermon in the pro-Cathedral last evening, taking for his text, "Render an account of thy stewardship, for now thou canst be steward no longer." Previous to his sermon the reverend gentleman made reference to an announcement of Saturday calling a meeting at the Palace.

Whoever exnogitated that notice, he said, is as innocent of Catholic feeling as he is of common sense. The providing of priests for any diocese is the right and privilege of the bishop of that diocese. Neither the bishop nor the one who after him was most interested was consulted in the matter. It would have been only common sense to have at least asked his lordship's permission and mine before taking any such step. Again, any one who has the faintest shadow of an idea about Catholic discipline, knows that in these countries when a priest is ordained he takes an oath to labor all his life in that diocese for which he was ordained. Without the cordial permission of his own bishop and only for the gravest of reasons would any honorable man seek release from that obligation; and besides Catholic instinct will naturally suggest to the Catholic mind that the way to secure the ministrations of any priest is not by an anonymous notice for a meeting in a church yard.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE FULL COURT.

The full court met this morning; present, their lordships, the Chief Justice Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, Hon. Mr. Justice Walkem, Hon. Mr. Justice Crease, Hon. Mr. Justice McCreight and Hon. Mr. Justice Drake. The Bench looked very imposing with all these learned judges seated solemnly under the inscription: Sapientia, Justitia, Clementia, and the array of legal talent at the bar made an impressive foreground. Previous to the formal opening of the court Mr. A. E. Luxton had the honor of being introduced to their lordships by Hon. Mr. Davie, Attorney-General, and admitted to practice at the Bar of British Columbia.

AN APPEAL TO FULL COURT.

Re Thomas Brady.—Motion—Warren vs. Boscowitz, appeal from the decision of the Chief Justice.

Re Peek Ke Ahkan. Motion.

Levine vs Rankine—appeal from Mr. Justice McCreight.

TO THE DIVISIONAL COURT.

Gillespie vs. Black, Brown vs. Beanlands, Gray vs. McCallum, all appeals from the decisions of Mr. Justice Drake.

THE BRADY CASE.

The first case brought before the court was that of Brady. The Attorney-General, at the opening of the court, moved to quash the judgment of Mr. Justice Walkem, given in the case of the Queen vs. Brady at the last Kamloops assizes, declaring section 3 of the County Court Amendment Act, 1890, which empowered Judge Spinks to sit in Kootenay, as unconstitutional.

Mr. Justice Walkem said that it was an important case, and he was very desirous that the Full Court should settle it.

The Attorney-General, in opening the argument, stated that he felt very much more difficulty, from a technical point of view, as to the manner of bringing the case before the court, and as to whether the court had jurisdiction to hear it, than he had in convincing the court that the section under consideration was perfectly constitutional. However, it was a most important point, and the decision which had been arrived at, and which he wished to attack, had thrown the administration of justice in Kootenay into confusion. Should the court conclude that the present application was out of order, there was another case which would be brought forward, in which he (Mr. Davie) would move to quash the rule which would bring the Bradey case up. His learned friend, Mr. Spragge appeared on the other side.

Mr. Justice Walkem—I refused the rule in that case.

Mr. Spragge—I did not so understand it. I understood your lordship reserved your decision.

Mr. Justice Walkem—You understood wrongly. I distinctly refused.

Hon. Mr. Davie—If Mr. Spragge is wrong in this matter, there has been a general misunderstanding on all sides because I was informed by the County Court judge, and others who were concerned in the matter that you had reserved your decision.

Mr. Justice Walkem—Mr. Spragge alone was present when I decided the case against him and refused to interfere.

Mr. Spragge—I have no recollection.

The Attorney-General — That being the case I suppose I shall not be in a position to move in the Indian matter. I certainly hope that your lordship will find that you can entertain the present application, for the matter is a very serious one indeed. If the matter cannot be settled in any other way I propose to move for a habeas corpus for the Indians.

Hon. Mr. Davie then proceeded with his argument, which was in progress at the time of going to press and the report is reserved.

EIGHT INDIANS KILLED.

A FATAL ROCK SLIDE AT THE NORTH PACIFIC CANNERY.

An Awful Mass of Rock Comes Rolling Down Upon Indian Huts—Continual Rain the Cause—The Sufferers Kindly Treated—The Salmon Run.

The steamer Princess Louise returned yesterday morning from northern points with particulars of a disastrous rock and land slide which occurred last Sunday and Monday on the Skeena River. The particulars of the dreadful affair as gleaned from the passengers is as follows:

On the morning of the 5th inst a heavy rain set in which continued with slight interruption for several days. This rain swelled the mountain streams enormously. At the North Pacific Cannery at the mouth of the Skeena, Sunday night a fall of rock was heard back of the houses occupied by the Indians of Port Chester and Port Simpson. This rock seemed to have lodged near the foot of the mountain. Nothing more was thought of it. Monday morning the men arose and went to their fishing. The women at their time also arose and went to their work in the cannery, many of whom had got through by 9:30 a.m. These returned to their houses and set themselves about their household duties. Without warning a wonderful mass of rock, earth, etc., forced on by a great body of water from behind, thundered down upon those frail tenements, crushing them to fragments. Their unfortunate occupants fled. In their flight four women and four children were killed, and 8 or 10 received more or less serious injury. One little boy's thigh was broken. Seven of the eight killed were from Port Chester, Alaska; the other belonged to Port Simpson.

Eighteen or nineteen families were thus driven from their homes with loss of bedding, wearing apparel, cooking utensils, etc., besides varying sums of money. Dr. Bolton, with assistants, was speedily on the scene of the disaster, and dressed the wounds of the injured. The missionaries were there doing their best to administer comfort to the bereaved. Mr. Holmes, the obliging and energetic manager of the North Pacific Cannery, spared no pains to make the people as comfortable as circumstances would allow.

The same night there was a land slide at Inverness, but owing to a deep hollow at the back of the Manager's house, the debris was arrested and thus prevented from distroying the house withits occupants, who were fast asleep.

The little boy whose thigh was broken has been taken into Dr. Bolton's house for treatment at Port Essington. It is indeed a great blessing to the community to have such a man as Dr. Bolton on hand when such accidents occur.

The salmon run on the Skeena, from all reports, is splendid; all the canneries being kept busy. A very different state of affairs exists on the Naas River, however, where salmon are very scarce.

The only passengers down were a number of Indians who were landed at the mouth of the Fraser. Twelve thousand empty cases were also landed there.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

The Jockey Club's Fall meeting will most likely take place before August 17th. This is the date on which the fall circuit commences at Kent, and Victoria ought to lead off sometime before that date.

CYCLING.

Karl J. Sherwood, writes to a friend in Kamloops from Syracuse, N.Y., that he covered the distance on his bicycle from an interior place in Wisconsin to that city, 1115 miles, in 15 days, starting June 15, and arriving June 30, 1891, making an average of 75 miles a day.

THE OAR.

PETERSON ARRIVES.

Harry Peterson, the California oarsman arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning with his backer W. Muirhead. He brought with him his new lap streaked shell bottom boat in which he is to row his race with McLead. The boat is 20 feet long and weighs 60 pounds. He says it will take him fully three weeks before he will become accustomed to it as he is used to rowing in shells. He has never rowed on a river before, but is confident that with practice he will come out best man in the coming race. He will remain in this city three weeks.

TRIBUTES TO THE DEAD.

At the First Presbyterian church last evening and from the pulpit where a few short days since, Rev. Donald Fraser addressed his congregation, Rev. Mr. McLaren spoke of the deceased gentleman in feeling terms. Taking for his text the words: "Remember ye not that when I was yet with you I told you these things." Mr. McLaren said: Separation from our friends always imparts to the words they spoke while they were yet with us, a weightier impressiveness, a deeper solemnity or a tenderer pathos. This is especially true in the case of death. It has pleased God to set the seal of everlasting silence upon the lips that for many years have proclaimed to you God's truth. And as the scenes of other days come thronging before your mental vision, and you dwell with fond regret upon the memory of solemn warnings and emphasized entreaties, of kindly words, and of kindlier deeds, there will be in many hearts the feeling which the poet gave expression to when he cried "Oh, for the touch of the vanished hand, and the sound of the voice that is still." That, however, may not be. Only the memory; only the echo of the silent voice can be yours for evermore. Remember ye not that he who occupied this pulpit, when he was yet with you, told you of the abominableness of sin. He spoke plainly and solemnly of the evil nature and destructive results of that sin. He told you of Christ's power and willingness to save; plain statements about man's true condition in the sight of God, were accompanied by equally plain statements of the ample provision God had made for the redemption of humanity; and with his large-hearted love he spoke of the fulness of the Gospel of Christ. He told you of the magnificence of the Christian life. In his view salvation was not mere deliverance from the punishment of sin, but the open door through which the children of men may pass into the life eternal. He told you of the danger of neglect, knowing what sin was. There rises to-day from this vacant pulpit, to those who may have been unimpressed by these tremendous truths, the solemn, tender enquiry—Remember ye not that when I was yet with you I told you these things? The minister whose loss you deplore, by the spirit of his life proclaimed continually these most important truths. He was no gloomy pessimist. He believed that the world moved, and was moving in the right direction. You all know how bravely he bore himself amid difficulties and discouragements. The secret of power over man is loving service of man. His was a spirit of rare unselfishness. At the voice of duty he was ever ready to move forward, regardless of personal comfort or advantage. He had grasped the true idea of the ministry of Jesus Christ and recognized that only through self-forgetful service of his fellowmen could he imitate the example of the Lord of Love. And that spirit of self-denying loyalty to duty is the explanation of the great sense of loss experienced by not only this congregation but by the church at large. He taught by his life that moral interests outweigh all material considerations. He stood up for truth and principle before all else, and his memory will always be identified with all that tended to the development of the highest and purest life of the community. He taught and showed that character is the supreme possession. "He stood four square to every wind that blew." Referring to Mr. Fraser's character the preacher dwelt upon the importance of young men cultivating the example of character set by Mr. Fraser.

Rev. Mr. Macleod of St. Andrew's also dwelt on the life of Mr. Fraser, and paid his memory a most feeling and eloquent tribute.

A DESPERATE WOMAN.

She Has Revenge and Ends In a Mad House.

ERIE, Pa., July 13.—Mrs. Jane Leland, a woman of sixty, and connected with some of the best families in Pennsylvania, lies in the Erie county jail to night raving mad. Her son Frank was recently sent to prison for stealing cattle and the mother swore vengence upon all who had anything to do with his conviction. Witnesses and jurors since then have been pursued by a common nemesis and their horses and cattle have been killed by some person. Suspcion resulted in her detection this morning, just as she had inoculated a valuable stallion with arsenic. Mrs. Leland and her daughter fought the officers with axes, but were overpowered.

ST. IGNACE, Mich., July 12.—One of of the most destructive forest fires which has ever swept the northern peninsula is raging between Marquette and this city along the line of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad. For 100 miles nothing can be seen but a mass of flames and dense smoke. Large crowds of men stationed along the railway track have been fighting the fire, but the flames are gaining headway. It is feared the tracks will be destroyed. Between Newberry and Seny the bridges across the small creeks are now burning. At several bridges to-day trains were compelled to stop and extinguish the flames. The telegraph poles are burned and the wires readered useless. Some small villages along the railroad are in danger of being wiped out. The inhabitants have been fighting fire for the last few days, and are now almost exhausted, and have applied to the railroad officials for aid.

It is feared that seven loggers along the banks of the Tahquamanon and Fox rivers lost their lives.

SMUGGLING CHINAMEN.

SEATTLE, July 12.—Captain Alfred Zetterman, of the sloop Cora, was bound over to the next term of the United States District Court yesterday by Commissioner Emery, for illegally landing Chinese, upon the testimony of his mate, W. H. McKay, or William Henry, who turned state's evidence. Zetterman and Henry were arrested on Friday morning by Inspector of Customs Z. T. Holden, on board the sloop, which was seized. They were charged with smuggling in three Chinamen, who had also been arrested.

Captain Zetterman was given a hearing yesterday afternoon. There had been found on board the sloop several cards and papers, which were introduced as evidence. On one card was printed "Alice Seymour, 78 Douglas street," (a street in Victoria). On the back side was written "Yung Sing." There was also the business card of Hip Tock Lung & Co., opium merchants of Vancouver, B.C., and a receipt to "Mr. Mckay" for provisions purchased from B. Gordon, of Victoria, B.C.

The mate gave evidence as follows:—"My proper name is W. H. McKay. I was employed on the sloop Cora; have been on her since she was built. After the Cora was documented at Port Townsend we went down the Straits, first near Race Rocks, then down to Sooke and from there to Otter Point. I don't recollect if we landed at Race Rocks. We landed at Sooke and stayed there a day and a night. Sooke is in British Columbia, on Vancouver Island. We got some boards there to stow fish. We tried to fish, but couldn't catch them. We then went back to Sooke and then up toward Victoria for the purpose of getting some Chinamen to carry over here—it was mutually agreed upon between me and the captain, Zetterman. I got some Chinamen last week. They were put on board the Cora. There were sixteen or seventeen of them. We landed four Cninamen in Seattle. Ah Toy was one of the Chinamen landed here and also the two boys, Gee Mack and Ah Yung. We landed them in the Southern part of Seattle. We were to be paid $25 apiece for landing them, but have not yet been paid. A Chinaman in Victoria was to be paid the $25 apiece. The four Chinamen were landed in Seattle night before last about 11 o'clock. While I was in Victoria I bought some stores for the sloop from B. Gordon. This is the bill. I gave my name as McKay. Captain Zetterman was also on shore at Victoria. He did not help make the bargain for bringing Chinamen over. The captain sailed the vessel to Seattle."

Upon the conclusion of the evidence Commissioner Emery bound Zetterman over to the United States district court in the sum of $1,000. He will be sent to McNeil's island and kept there until December. McKay was remanded to jail, and will appear as a witness against the Chinamen. Gee Mack and Ah Yung will have a hearing on Monday and Ah Toy on Tuesday.

People Starving in Russia—Irish-Americans Denounce Parnell.

The sufferings of the people from famine in the Volge region, Russia, are becoming intense. The provincial assembly at Kasan reports that 40,000 persons are without food.

The crop prospects in the provinces of Bengal, Assam and Burmah are good. Elsewhere the rainfall is deficient and the distress is increasing. Cattle are lying of starvation.

Extensive drought and heat prevail throughout Spain. Much damage has been done vineyards and pastures, and many springs are dried up.

The National Federation of America, organized to aid the home rule movement in Ireland, has issued an address to the friends of home rule in which, after severely denouncing Parnell, it refers to the fact that Ireland is on the eve of a general election. It is conceded on all sides that the question of home rule will be settled by this election for another generation at least. The address, therefore, invites all who sympathize with the cause to lend their assistance and enroll freely in the federation.

The Rome correspondent of the London edition of the New York Herald telegraphs his paper that it is rumored that the local authorities at Catonia, a city in Sicily, have violated the United Stotes consulate there and that the consulate has asked the officials at Washington to permit the closing of the office and place the archives under the protection of the German flag.

The Cologne Gazette, in an attack upon America and Russia, whom it terms "the bitterest epemies to German industries," advocates refusal to both of the favored nations treatment except for the necessaries of life, such as grain and petroleum.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

NEWBURG, July 12.—The fact has just leaked out that a thoroughly planned, though unsuccessful, attempt to wreck a train on the West Shore Railroad was recently made. On Monday, as section foreman Teben, whose territory extends from Jones' Point to West Haverstraw, was making an examination of the tracks near the former station, he was startled to discover somebody had wedged a piece of steel rail six inches long between the frog and the rail. A large spike had also been driven in between the piece of rail and the outer rail of the down track. The obstructions were removed before the arrival of the first train.

The Catholic Association.

LONDON, July 12.—Cardinal Manning and committee are drawing up rules for the union of Catholic workmen which he is organizing on the lines laid down in the recent encyclical of the Pope. Its name will be the Catholic Association, and its intent ultimately to embrace all English-speaking Catholics. The Roman Catholic bishop of England has framed resolutions, which have been sent to Rome, thanking the holy father for his encyclical on labor, and declaring the whole world will appreciate the service rendered society. The Pope has bestowed upon Bishop Headly a medal in commendation of his translation of the encyclical into English.

INTERIOR INTELLIGENCE.

Mining Matters—An Important Legal Point—Death of Mrs. McNab—"Miner" Sold.

From the Inland Sentinel.]

Mr. Gus. Nelson, of Kamloops, has registered what promises to be a very rich claim on the North Thompson, at Louis Creek. A sample of the rock has been duly assayed, and yields $18.75 in silver, $0.17 in gold, and about 4 per cent copper. This is just the croppings of the ledge, which is fully 9 ft. wide. There is a clearly defined ledge of some 125 feet in length, and Mr. Nelson has a good man at work still further prospecting. The beauty of the claim is that it is easy of access, and if all that be in it is as good as the assayed sample it will pay well. The well-known mineral resources of the North Thompson are being rapidly established, and at no distant date the region is bound to attract capital. Mr. W. Purdy, an American miner, has started on a prospecting tour in the district, encouraged by the fine sample of ore shown him by Mr. Nelson and the favorable reports of all who have explored the district.

Last week we announced the birth of a son to Mrs. Harvey McNab, wife of the much respected C.P.R. agent at Savanos. To-day it is our sad duty to record the death of the lady. Mrs. McNab was but 27 years of age, and was beloved and esteemed by all who enjoyed the pleasure of her acquaintance. She was born at Londonderry, Nova Scotia, and as Miss Nellie McClelland, came to this province last year to marry Mr. Harvey McNab. The marriage ceremony was performed at Vancouver, on the 30th Aug. last, and although but a short time in the country the deceased lady made many sincere friends, as was demonstrated by the large funeral cortege which followed the remains to their last resting place. The funeral took place yesterday from the residence of Mr. T. Roadley. Rev. Mr. Lee was the officiating clergyman. The greatest sympathy is felt for Mr. McNab in his bereavement.

The ruling of Mr. Justice Walkem recently in Kamloops, that the Provincial Legislature had no power to extend the jurisdiction of his honor Judge Spinks, will be challenged before the full court at Victoria on Monday. The point was raised in the case of Brady, who has been convicted by Judge Spinks, in the Kootenay district, for having escaped jail. The question is one of considerable importance as, should Judge Walkem's ruling be held good in law, a pretty general jail delivery must be made, several convictions having been made by County Court judges, outside the jurisdiction defined in their commissions. Mr. W. H. Whittaker, who prosecuted in the case at issue, having been summoned to Victoria on the appeal left on Thursday night for the capital, accompanied by Mrs. Whittaker.

Mr. A. Wells is in town. He is one of the old-timers in the Cariboo district in 1866. He is still interested in one of the mines in the district and has just returned from an inspection of it. Mr. Wells is a very observant traveler, and gives most interesting accounts of his exploits. He has been through California, and was much disappointed with the climate there, which he declares to be much inferior to that of British Columbia. Speaking of mining in the Cariboo district, Mr. Wells says that a great deal of work is being done at South Forks by the Hepburn Co., who are sanguine that they have struck a continuation of Chinamen's ground, which has been worked with profit for so long a time. The almond eyes have been working this claim, with but little water for the past ten years, and have not covered more than 100 square feet. When the Hepburn Co. start, with the best machinery and an abundant supply of water, carried a distance of sixteen miles, some excellent results may be looked for. There is lots of capital and energy at the back of the company, and if their claim be as reach as it is said to be, Cariboo will again boom up as rich as in days of yore.

From the Kootenay Star.]

Oliver Redpath was in town this week with three tons of ore taken from the Prospector and Ironclad claims owned by himself and George McDonald, recently discovered on the North Thompson River, 60 miles above Kamloops. The ore was sampled and purchased by the Kootenay Smelting Syndicate here. It assayed 37 ozs. silver and 38 per cent. lead to the ton, and as the claims promise to yield an unlimited quantity of ore, the owners are satisfied they have a good property.

Gold Commissioner Fitzstubbs returned Wednesday from an official visit to the mining camps in the lake country. The work on the Toad Mountain, Hot Springs and Goat River roads is being pushed along rapidly, that to the Hot Springs being almost completed to No. 1.

From the Nelson Miner.]

The Whitewater mill on Rover Creek was started up on Thursday, and M. S. Davys, one of the owners of the property, reports it working nicely. Until the men get the run of things the mill will only be run during the day. When run day and night about 10 tons a day will be crushed. The mill is a Huntington with a Triumph vanner. Mr. Davys says the cleanup will not be disappointing, and that the Whitewater will be the first mine in the Kootenay Lake country to make bullion shipments in 1891.

Robert Jackson, who some time ago jumped the Della, a claim in Hot Springs district, did not make an appearance before Gold Commissioner Fitzstubbs this week, therefore there was no hearing in the case. It is understood that Jackson will take the case before Mr. Justice Walkem, at the next sitting of the county court.

The Puritan, a fractional claim lying between the United and Mountain Maid, was sold this week by Frank Ernest and George Shroder to E. C. Carpenter of Victoria, the consideration being $600 of the latter's good money. Frank Ernest having found the ledge on the Gap, has taken up the bond and purchased the claim from Charles Rossiter; assays by Bryan of ore from the discovery gave returns of $1025 from hard ore, and $187 from oxydized ore. Favorable reports come from the Number One. The lead has straightened and now has a westerly dip, with from 2 to 4 feet of good ore. At the Dictator, Sam Lovett is putting in a station, preparatory to sinking in the tunnel at the north end of the mine. Sinking is also continued in the ore body in the incline in the south end. At the Skyline, Superintendent McDonald reports the crosscut from the 200-foot station being advanced at the rate of 3 feet a day, and expects it to tap the ledge within 60 feet.

W. Gesner Allen, tired of the labors incident to getting out a country newspaper, has retired from The Miner, and gone on a two-months' trip to the coast, intending to visit a brother in San Francisco before returning to Nelson. The Miner is now owned by John Houston and Charles H. Ink, who will do business under the firm name of Houston & Ink.

Lots 3 and 4, block E, in Ainsworth, were sold this week for $650 cash, E. C. Carpenter, of Victoria, being the purchaser, and E. C. Connop the seller.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

IMPORTANT LAND SALE.

Victoria Arm, Prospect Lake,

AND COMOX DISTRICT.

MONDAY, 27TH JULY, AT 11 A.M.

I have been instructed to sell at my salesrooms, Fort and Langley streets, Victoria:

VICTORIA ARM.

Ten one-acre blocks of land, situated between Victoria Arm and Colquitz River, all fronting on a 60-foot road that extends from the Arm Road to the river. Also a four-acre block on the east side of the Colquitz, one corner of which touches on the Burnside Road. This land lies between the properties of Messrs. Austin and Adams. All this property is on a gentle slope and nearly all clear. The soil is first rate. These blocks are most desirable residential properties, and the neighborhood is considered one of the prettiest spots in the suburbs of Victoria City, and is destined in a short period to be very valuable. It is well sheltered from the cold winds.

PROSPECT LAKE.

Sections 132 and 133, containing about 95 acres each. The latter section has considerable frontage on the lake and about 30 acres of good land is cleared and fenced. There is a good road to this property. About 30 acres more can be easily cleared. The first section has considerable good land that can be easily cleared. The property is about six miles from Victoria. There are no Black Tail Deer or Ptarmigan on it, but lots of other game and lake trout. Either piece would make a most pleasant and desirable house.

COMOX DISTRICT.

Section 8—Containing 168 acres, fronting on the Comox River, close to the Courtney town site, and three miles from the Comox wharf. This property was formerly owned by A. M. Stenhouse, ex M.P.P.

Section 6—Newcastle District, containing 164 acres, fronting on Deep Bay. About 20 acres of this land has been cleared and cultivated. There is also a four-room house, barn and improvements. It lies about 19 miles south from the Union Mine wharf, and the Nanaimo road runs through it; also a good running stream.

Section 12—Containing 138 acres. Adjoining Section 6, and fronting on Deep Bay. Both these sections were formerly occupied by W. H. Grove.

Section 79—Comox District, containing 160 acres. About 20 acres have been cleared, and cabin and barn erected. It has a good stream of running water; is on a good road; about five miles from Comox wharf. This is good, level land and soil; a large portion is alder bottom. Was formerly owned by Joe Rodello.

Section 119—Comox District. One hundred acres fronting on Comox River. This section adjoins 79. All flat river bottom land. A good deal of this land is alder bottom. This is one of the finest fishing frontages on the river.

TERMS OF SALE—25 per cent. cash; the balance in equal payments in one and two years, with interest at 6 per cent. per annum.

COAL

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.)

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

(House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power, unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

COUNTER CRUMBS

That's a good name for them; or, we might call them

"CLEARANCE CRUMBS."

They are the crumbs of our season's stock.

You Know How It Is

Every season sees some broken line left on our counters; odd pieces, and patterns. These we call "crumbs." They go at crumb prices. Remember these are

Not Stale Crumbs,

But every crumb is fresh and of the best. Every article is worth to you as much as when we bought it. But you can buy now at less than the worth—yes, less than cost. We have placed these crumbs on our

Half Price Counter

And these goods will be sold at just half regular prices.
